Kinston Farmers Enjoy 4-Day Education Tour Covering Four States

Accompanied By
F. W. Wood, Kinston
Vo-Ag Teacher

Eight farmers of the Kinston area along with F.W. Wood, local vocational agriculture teacher, have recently returned from a four day educational tour. The four state tour included visits to experimental stations, state docks, industrial plants, two state capitols, outstanding farms, and places of historical interest.

After group pictures were taken and a devotional by Reverend Albert Glass, the tour started at 6:30 A.M. Monday, July 29. The Kinston FFA school bus was used and with some of the seats taken out there was plenty of room for luggage, camping equipment, and passengers. The first stop was made at Jayward Company where Doctor Curtis Hutton, vice-director in charge of the West Florida Experiment Station conducted the Kinston men on an interesting tour of experimental work. At Mobile the Alabama State Ducks were seen under the direction of a docks police officer. The docks facilities were certainly being used, as many ocean going freighters were being loaded and unloaded. A sailor from a Belgium ship gave a letter to a member of the group and asked that it be mailed to his country. The state yacht, now a patrol boat, was tied-up behind the docks Administration Building. Many miles of the scenic gulf coast were seen in South Mississippi. At Baton Rouge, Louisiana the group was met at the state capitol by Jimmy Dillon, former national FFA president who is now with the local Chamber of Commerce. He went with the men to see the capitol, LSU, and the Humble Oil and Refining Company.

The group crossed the Mississippi River on a ferry and many fields of sugar cane were seen in this section as well as several industries. At Natchez, Mississippi, anti-bellum homes were seen and the group camped in a roadside park near the scenic Natchez Trace Parkway. Nicksburg National Military Park was visited. A trip to Jackson included a tour of the state capitol and hand-shaking with Governor Ross Barnett. The national champion Pole Hereford bull was seen on the Rogers Ranch at Morton, Mississippi. This bull cost Rogers $102,000. Beef cattle is a new enterprise on the ranch as broiler production is

Coffee Clubs To Show, Sell Beef Calves In 1964

4-H, FFA, and FFA Club members will be showing and selling their beef calves in Coffee County for the first time in 1964. An all out effort is being made right now to get as many good feeder calves as possible to offer the club members at the feeder calf sale to be held at the Enterprise Livestock Auction Barn on August 14, 1963. Assistant County Agent, Joe E. Lashley, states that nearly everyone who has been contacted seems to be really interested in this program. Lashley also states that it is going to be a concentrated effort on the part of everyone involved to make the kind of success that we would all like to see. Many business people, parents of club members, and cattle producers have expressed their belief that a county show and sale would be very successful. Most people believe that by having a county affair, more people will have an opportunity to join in and participate. Lashley wishes to state that he is very happy to have the help and support of all of the county Vocational-Agricultural teachers. These teachers are: Mr. J. W. Reeder, Enterprise; Mr. B.A. Johnson, New Brockton; Mr. R.S. Jones, Elba; and Mr. Fred Wood, Kinston. They have gone all out to help make this program a success. The beef calf show and sale will be sponsored by the Coffee County Cattleman's Association in Cooperation with the business people, the Livestock Barn, Auburn University Extension Service, and the Department of Vocational Agriculture. This show and sale will also be held in conjunction with the annual spring cattleman's sale to be announced later.

Hill Dedicates Elba's New Hospital, Lauds Medical Research

Patients Flock To New, Modern Med Facilities

Approximately 2,000 persons visited the Elba General Hospital on dedication Sunday afternoon in spite of the rainy weather. Because of the rain and the crowded condition inside the hospital many visitors failed to register in the guest book.

Because of the weather the program was interrupted with the dedication program was nearly an hour late in getting started with several features of the program being eliminated because of the rain.

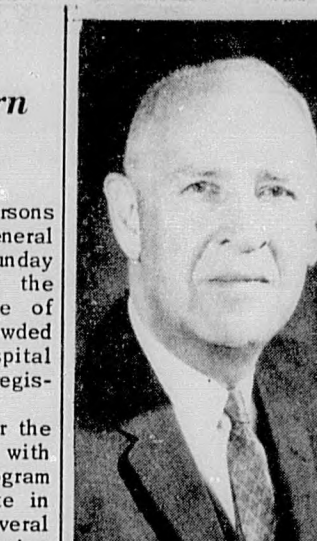

The cutting of the ribbon preceded the dedication speech of Senator Hill. Instead of following the program as was scheduled, visitors were to enter the hospital after the speech, but because of the rain, visitors began crowding inside an hour before the program was scheduled to have started, instead of entering the building following the cutting of the ribbon as the program was scheduled.

Visitors began arriving an hour before the scheduled dedication program and continued to visit the hospital several hours following the delayed program. Many predicted that except for the rain at least another thousand persons would have visited the hospital during the afternoon.

Money provided under the Hill-Burton Act totaled $262,000 with the city's share $225,000 and the state contributing $37,000.

Senator Hill pointed out that "Nothing is more important than medical research since we must find the cause for our people being made sick." He pointed out that through medical research the life span has been extended from 49 years to 70 years, and that many diseases which caused early deaths had been eliminated.

Mrs. J.M. Garrett, senior citizen of Elba, was given the honor of cutting the ribbon. Elba has four good doctors and with such a hospital as the Elba General Hospital, Elba is assured of keeping good doctors. Elba's three doctors were joined by Doctor Bancroft Cooper last week and he is taking on a part of the heavy workload of Doctor J.M. Kimmy, Doctor C.P. Hayes and Doctor Donald H. Crook. Elba's hospital is already as busy as it had been in operation for sometime. Monday morning over half the rooms were filled with patients; there were three new born babies in the nursery and another mother waiting.

Country Club Idea Progressing, Says Committee

The fish pond committee reported that a survey was made of the pond site and it was determined that a ten acre pond could be constructed on the property. All plans for the pond site are being coordinated with other committees to determine the exact location of the pond.

The golf course committee presented an aerial photo of the land with the proposed fairways for the golf course. The golf course will be a regular nine hole course.

The club house committee decided to build the club house on a high hill overlooking the lake. Plans are continuing as to the size, facilities, etc. There will definitely be a kitchen, lounge and dining room. A patio will be built just outside the clubhouse with a swimming pool adjoining the

AID OUR FRIENDS - THEN STOP

Looking back to the beginning of foreign aid, and to the idealistic yet practical principles on which it was then postulated, gives one something of an Alice-in-Wonderland feeling.

The start is found in the Marshall Plan. The idea was to use American resources to help rebuild war-shattered nations, and to bring about a peaceful, cooperative world based upon free institutions - including free popular elections.

The tragedy is that many billions of our foreign aid have been used for very different ends. It has gone to dictatorships, in which the people have no voice at all in affairs. Worst of all, it has gone, in instance after instance, to members of or sympathizers with the communist bloc. Thus, our own dollars have been used to strengthen our enemies - and even to buy them advanced weapons of war.

One can understand that foreign aid distributions of billions of dollars are often wasteful and misdirected. That is inevitable in so vast an undertaking. But there can be no excuse for employing it to our own disadvantage and danger. A drastic change in policy has long been in order. Let us aid our friends, and stop night there.

SCHOOL BELLS AGAIN

Everyone's view of summer is different depending on his responsibilities, opportunities, and role in life. Many months very probably feel it has been long, noisy, busy and hot. But a good many million children and dogs probably find it hard to believe that three months could have passed so quickly and that the school doors are about to open once again.

The sounds and smells and experiences of summer vacation are still an important part of growing up. But there have been changes - the old swimming hole may have become a concrete-lined chlorinated pool. The automobile and airplane have vastly extended the scope of things that can be seen on a vacation trip. School has changed too, as the frontiers of man's knowledge have been pushed back so rapidly in recent years. The amount of knowledge that must be packed into the heads of children in grade school and high school has vastly increased.

As school bells ring again, let's salute our young people and those who guide them through ever more complicated fields of learning. In the great affairs of nations, in science, and the complicated business of leading a good and worthwhile life, our need has never been greater for competent, intelligent, educated men and women.

YES - IT'S A SMALL WORLD!

The jet plane brought about a revolution in international transportation, by providing passenger service between far corners of the world at fractions of the times previously possible.

That revolution has entered its second stage with the introduction of all-cargo Jet Clippers by Pan American Airways.

These cargo jets, by slaking time, challenged traditional concepts of marketing and merchandising, making once-distant markets a jet hop away from the manufacturer's base. They are adding a new element, so that the shipper can choose the means of transport which best suits his needs and desires of his customers, no matter where they are.

The Jet Clipper made the inaugural crossing of the Atlantic in 1958 - a mere five years ago. Since that time the globe has shrunk to half the size it was when piston-engine aircraft dominated the skies. A gauge of the impact of this revolution is that nearly twice as many passengers will cross the Atlantic by air this year as crossed it five years ago.

A common saying when you run into someone in an unexpected place is, "It's a small world, isn't it?" It sure is!

SEEK THE SHADE
Where can you catch fish when the summer sun turns the water so hot you can practically brew a cup of instant coffee in it? Look for your favorite fish here!

When the solar rays send you lower your minnow or crawfish right down on the bottom where it's cool and agreeable. Work your surface plug across the water slowly.

Even shallow waters have their comfortable havens. And they're usually easy to spot: overhanging trees or bushes, undisturbed banks and dead floating fields of lily pads or other forms of aquatic vegetation.

The secret is to make your offering both tantalizing and easy to capture. In hot weather no one wants too much exertion. Fish are no exception. Float or drift your surface plug across the water slowly.

Work over every patch of weeds or pads methodically, moving each cast over about a yard until you've thoroughly explored virtually every nook and cranny. Remember, that lure must literally dangle in front of their noses.

Cast in the shade where it's cool. That's where the fishin' is!

Drowning is the fourth leading cause of fatal accident - one out of every 14 fatal accidents is due to drowning.

Stories Behind Words

Pig In A Sack

When a person says that he will not buy a "pig in a sack," or "pig in a poke," it is sometimes expressed, he means that he will not buy anything without first seeing what it is.

The expression grew out of a trick practiced long ago at English fairs. These fairs were primarily trade events to which merchants and farmers brought their goods to sell.

Farmers carried their pigs to the fair in sacks or pokes, and when a sale was made the sack, containing the pig, was handed over.

Sometimes an unscrupulous man would put a cat in a sack and some gullible person, without checking the contents of the bag, would buy it, thinking he was getting a pig.

Anyone who fell for this trick bought a "pig in a sack."

Sour Grapes
One summer day, according to one of Aesop's fables, a fox was walking through a woods when he spotted a bunch of grapes hanging from a vine on a tree limb.

The fox stopped, and with his eyes on the grapes, thought how good they would taste. "Ah," he said, "just the thing to quench my thirst."

He backed up a few steps and jumped, but he missed the grapes. Again he jumped and again, still without success. Finally he grew tired and walked away with his nose to the air, saying, "Humph, they probably were sour, anyway!" From this fable came the expression "sour grapes," meaning things which people pretend to dislike because they cannot have them.

SMITH ORGANIZES JUNIOR CHAMBER IN EVERGREEN

Walter Smith, until recently a resident of Elba and now residing in Evergreen, has led a movement to organize a Junior Chamber of Commerce there, and will serve as the first president of the club which will be chartered on August 30. Smith was active in the Jaycees here and at the time he moved to Evergreen was serving as national director.

Smith and other officers were elected at a meeting recently. Final arrangements have been made for the charter night banquet to be held at 8 o'clock Friday, August 30, at the Evergreen Recreation Center. Plans were also made for having several delegates attending the Evergreen meeting from the Elba chapter.

The membership committee and the legal committee explained their procedures. The legal committee formed a corporation known as the "Developers of Elba Inc."

An individual will buy stock in the amount of $200.00 in the corporation which will also be his membership in the Elba Country Club.

The membership committee decided that each person in attendance will serve as salesmen to sell the membership. The salesmen will report to Mr. K.D. Thomson each night with a list of new members and the total number will be posted on a "themoneter" which is located on the corner of the square across the street from Martin's new store.

The spirit has really been running high among the people of Elba about the proposed country club and now is the time to join and prove to everyone that the people of Elba really want the things that not only will mean a fine recreation area for the young and old but will entice industry to our city.

Much work has gone into this project and not one step has been taken in a haphazard manner. Everything has been thoroughly planned and investigated to provide a sound venture.

Many of the local men and women will be selling membership to the country club. Don't wait for them to see you, you contact them and remember only 200 memberships will be sold. A one installment plan has been worked out with the Elba Exchange Bank.

Mr. Rainer, Jr. and Mace Cook are preparing a large terrain board which will be an exact replica of the Elba Country Club and this board will be placed in the Emergency Aid Office Building for everyone walking by to see. Be sure and go by and see what you will be a part of.

The membership committee and the legal committee explained their procedures. The legal committee formed a corporation known as the "Developers of Elba Inc."

An individual will buy stock in the amount of $200.00 in the corporation which will also be his membership in the Elba Country Club.

The membership committee decided that each person in attendance will serve as salesmen to sell the membership. The salesmen will report to Mr. K.D. Thomson each night with a list of new members and the total number will be posted on a "themoneter" which is located on the corner of the square across the street from Martin's new store.

The spirit has really been running high among the people of Elba about the proposed country club and now is the time to join and prove to everyone that the people of Elba really want the things that not only will mean a fine recreation area for the young and old but will entice industry to our city.

Much work has gone into this project and not one step has been taken in a haphazard manner. Everything has been thoroughly planned and investigated to provide a sound venture.

Many of the local men and women will be selling membership to the country club. Don't wait for them to see you, you contact them and remember only 200 memberships will be sold. A one installment plan has been worked out with the Elba Exchange Bank.

Mr. Rainer, Jr. and Mace Cook are preparing a large terrain board which will be an exact replica of the Elba Country Club and this board will be placed in the Emergency Aid Office Building for everyone walking by to see. Be sure and go by and see what you will be a part of.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
